Prosperous Year for Wauregan Parish -Coroner Bill Reports 21 Sudden Deaths for the Quarter-Various Borough Interests.

In his annual report Rev. U. O. Bellerose of Wauregan shows that 1909 was a very prosperous one for the Sacred Heart parish. The total receipts amounted to $7,646.47, an excellent showing for a parish of 1,198 souls. The parish debt, which is now $12,000, was reduced during 1909 by $1,200, while $1,100 additional was spent in repairing the church and painting the school and parochial residence. Under Father Bellerose the church in Wauregan has made surprising progress. Two years ago a new convent and school building was erected at a cost of $15,000. Seven sisters are now engaged in teacring 243 pupils, as well as aiding in ministering to the people of the parish.

James Neble Struck by Train-Leg Fractured-Abington and Pomfret Stations Burglaried - Business Men's Association is to Be Address-

James Noble, claiming his home in Central Village, is at the Day-Kimball hospital with a compound fracture of the left femur, just above the knee, as the result, it is supposed, of being struck by a train on the Midland division, east of this city, just before midnight Tuesday. Noble was discovered by tramps en route to the tramp home, near the town farm. A measage was sent to Putnam by telephone, the yard switcher was run out to where Noble lay and brought him to the station. He was later transferred to the hospital and Dr. E. F. Perry was called to attend him. Noble's leg was twisted out of shape. The fracture is close to the knee joint; during Wednesday an X-ray picture was made to determine if the joint is affected. Noble does not seem to remember just how or when the accident occurred. He is believed to have been intoxicated when injured and is altooccurred. He is believed to have been intoxicated when injured and is altogether hazy in his recollections of what happened to him. He did say that he was walking from this city to Willimantic, when he was injured. Noble appears about 45 years of age.

STATIONS BURGLARIZED. Only $1.25 Secured at Abington-Better Luck at Pomfret.

When the railroad stations at Abington and Pomfret were opened for business Wednesday morning, it was discovered that burgiars had once more paid them a visit and cleaned up such valuables as could be reached. At Abington the picking was poor and all that the visitors secured was $1.25 worth of gum and a few cigars. At Pomfret their luck was a little better. Here three $5 bills, one $2 bill, three $1 bills, nickels and pennies, amounting to $9.35, were taken. The tickets, it was shown by checking Wednesday, had not been tampered with at either office. Entrance was gained in both instances by breaking out a winooth instances by breaking out a win-
